LETTER FROM THE SECRETARY GENERAL

Dear Delegates and Faculty Advisors,

It is with tremendous joy and immense pride that I welcome you to the eighth edition of Deens Model United Nations, DMUN 2025.

DMUN has always strived to be a conference that holds true to the ethos 'The MUN with a difference'. This difference is exemplified primarily in our lineup of agendas and committees, all of which are handpicked to be the most unique, dynamic, and fresh in the circuit, along with ensuring they shed light on problems and regions that remain overlooked in our world. DMUN is also designed to cater to everyone - from novices to experienced delegates of all committee preferences.

This year, our younger delegates traverse through the vast unknown of the galactic, addressing the privatisation of space. Diplomacy is put to the ultimate test as enemies must work together for a common goal in the Historic AIPPM. The UNCIO gives delegates a chance to rewrite history and change the world order while they're at it. The US Senate rebuilds a country on the backs of a civil war while allowing delegates to chart their own course of nationhood, the UNSC reacts to crisis while evaluating its own pitfalls in doing so, and the delegates of the IPC and IDMS bring down world leaders with their sharp wits and sharper pencils. Meanwhile, larger, hidden forces lurk from the shadows controlling rebellion and conflict in the CCC- whose first secret is yet to be revealed.

Yet at the core of all these committees, beyond the farce of sharp suits and intimidating procedure lies the essence of MUN - humanity. Delegates, with every point raised and clause drafted, the only weapon left in your arsenal to save humanity is diplomacy. Use it well.

Sincerely yours,
Aditi Agarwal
Secretary General - DMUN '25

SPECPOL

SPECIAL POLITICAL AND DECOLONIZATION COMMITTEE

Agenda: Establishing a multilateral framework to address territorial disputes arising from colonial era land and maritime demarcations

Centuries ago, when Europe dominated, the nations of the world were etched with the blood of indigenous people. Today, those lines - once drawn for control - still bleed tension.

SPECPOL now faces a pivotal challenge: How does the international community resolve disputes rooted in colonial legacy without unravelling modern state systems?

This agenda is not merely about past injustices - it is about present instability and future peace. The creation of a multilateral framework offers hope for depoliticized and historically sensitive resolutions to pertinent problems. Yet, member states remain deeply divided.

Can we establish global standards to address such disputes? Should indigenous and historical claims influence modern sovereignty? And how do we ensure this framework empowers, not exploits? Your words, your resolutions, may redraw the world as we know it.

UNCIO

UNITED NATIONS CONFERENCE ON INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATION

Agenda: Establishing a Charter to govern the United Nations

The United Nations Conference on International Organization (UNCIO) marks a historic gathering of global powers tasked with laying the foundational framework of the United Nations. Convened in the aftermath of a devastating world war, this committee carries the monumental responsibility of drafting a Charter that will define the structure, powers, and principles of the UN.

Delegates will engage in rigorous debate to shape the future of international cooperation, collective security, and global peacekeeping. From deciding the roles of key organs to embedding the principles of human rights and sovereign equality, the outcome of this conference will echo across generations. This is not just diplomacy, it is the birth of a new world order. The world is watching. History is being written.

Delegates, the floor is yours.

UNSC

UNITED NATIONS SECURITY COUNCIL

Agenda: Addressing the conflict in the Central African Republic with special emphasis on the UN MINUSCA peacekeeping mission (UN Multidimensional Integrated Stabilization Mission in the Central African Republic)

In the heart of Africa, a nation lies weary and exhausted of a conflict that shows no respite. Years have passed since the Central African Republic last experienced peace, caught amidst a brutal civil war between rival armed factions, an inefficient government, rebel coalitions, and foreign powers. Ethnic and religious tensions entangle themselves with economic and political interests as the violence thunders on. As the age-old quest for control of resources and power rages on, it is ultimately civilians who are caught in the crossfire.

Struggling to find its way through this labyrinth, the UN initiates the UN MINUSCA peacekeeping mission. Yet, the CAR remains one of the most neglected crises in the world. MINUSCA's efforts continue today, but whether its efficacy does is up to you, delegates, to determine.

THE UNITED STATES SENATE

SEMI-CRISIS COMMITTEE

Agenda: Reconstructing the United States of America for the inclusion of Southern Confederate States

Step into the heat of the U.S. Senate, where men still bleed from the fall of Fort Sumter, where radical Reconstruction plans clash with Southern resistance, and power struggles unfold in every corner. Will you be the voice of progress, or will you lean into compromise to heal a fractured Union? With the assassination of President Lincoln, the future of the country is up in the air. The anger of the people of the North and South alike scrutinize every move of the Senate.

How will the powerful representation against the Southern Confederation rank up against the pure grit and hardship the South promise to serve with each unjust ruling? Get ready to shape history amidst a whirlwind of political drama.

Presenting the United States Senate.

NOTE: THIS IS A DOUBLE DELEGATION COMMITTEE

H-AIPPM

HISTORICAL ALL INDIA POLITICAL PARTY MEET

Agenda: The Lucknow Pact

It is the winter of 1916, amid the marble halls and meaty kebabs of Lucknow, a historic committee is convened for diplomacy. Once fractured by ideology, language, and visions of bhavishya, three powerful blocs now sit across the same table — not together by trust, but by necessity. The Moderates of the Congress, once firm believers in mild constitutional reforms, now find common ground with the Extremists, who had long demanded purna swaraj. Between them stands the hope of a reunited Congress. Meanwhile, the Muslim League, once cautious and distant, now leans in — not with full faith, but with a willingness to negotiate, to safeguard its own future. All three factions, once strangers in their own nation, now seek a united language for self-rule.

They meet as passengers aboard a burning train, trying to decide who gets a seat in which compartment. The pact they draft could be a handshake — but what lies behind those hands, is for you, delegates, to decide.

Welcome to the Historical All India Political Parties Meet.

UNCOPUOS

UNITED NATIONS COMMITTEE ON THE PEACEFUL
USES OF OUTER SPACE

Agenda: Deliberating the Privatization of Space

The United Nations Committee on the Peaceful Uses of Outer Space (COPUOS) brings together a meeting of committed representatives to debate man's next frontier- the privatization of space. As more private enterprises enter the cosmos, the COPUOS is at the forefront of ensuring that space remains a sphere of peace, justice, and common opportunity.

This committee sparks debates that weigh innovation, regulatory frameworks, and ethics, protecting our common cosmic heritage. It is an environment in which global collaboration steers responsible development of commercial spacefaring, embracing a future in which space exploration serves all of humankind, aliens not yet included.

NOTE: THIS IS A JUNIOR COMMITTEE (GRADES 6-8 ONLY)

CCC

CONTINUOUS CRISIS COMMITTEE

IPC

INTERNATIONAL PRESS CORPS

The hardest questions of the world- The hidden truths behind the scenes of who pulls the strings- What the world needs to know but never can. That's where the International Press Corps comes into play.

The corruption of world leaders, fallacies in governance around the world, and personal unbridled motives leading to wars around the globe are kept in check by the people- held accountable by the press. The one who holds the power of the people's opinions in the weight of their world- And today, there's an opportunity for you to hold that flaming torch.

In the International Press Corps, delegates encapture the flaming ashes of debate strewn across the committees of MUN, to make reports and conduct press conferences, to ensure to the fullest extent, that the truth is uncovered.

Do you have what it takes? Do you know how to make people feel the true burden of politics- to educate the people with your vocabulary? Find out in the International Press Corps!

IDMS

INTERNATIONAL DESIGN AND MEDIA SYMPOSIUM

Note: This committee is a subsidiary to the International Press Corps

Political cartoons and illustrations are an important way to spread opinions and depict situations that help transfer a message to the readers in an entertaining way. And therefore, it is important to have a unique press committee that is different from normal report-writing- a committee dedicated to art.

THE International Design and Media Symposium (IDMS) is a unique committee tying together geopolitics and diplomacy with art. This committee focuses on how delegates will use humour, satire and irony effectively to express their political opinions.

The delegates will impersonate cartoonists that they are allotted and will cover events happening in the committees they are assigned to with the help of visual media.

This could include the following: caricatures, newspaper clippings, comic strips, or pocket cartoons. Using a combination of the aforementioned media pieces, delegates will paint an overview of the events of the committee they are covering.

So delegates, turn up your creativity, sharpen your pencils, and get ready for this one-of-a-kind committee!
